

Families of people who dedicate their lives to service face many challenges, in addition to the normal family struggles. They are also often faced with the possibility of loss or injury at any moment.

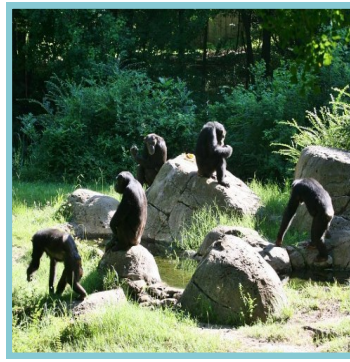

For loved ones of military, police, firefighters, first responders, and even teachers, whatever time they spend together is of utmost importance. Any opportunity for bonding can make time spent apart more bearable. Plus, re-connecting after an extended absence or life-altering event is easier in a natural and family friendly setting. The Jackson Zoo is a perfect place for families to solidify their bond and create life-long memories.

Experience Zoo! Initiative allows corporations, small businesses, organizations, or individuals to donate family memberships for employees in public service, chosen by their departments and advised by the donor.

It's good for families, good for the community, good for business, and can be found at the Jackson Zoo.

The Jackson Zoo Membership ($65) is 12 months of daily admission, discounted educational programs, dining deals at popular local restaurants, and discounted admission to sister zoos. The sale of annual passes benefits the General Fund, which pays for daily operations (animal care, utilities, staff).
